

I am most concerned that the FCC will lower the restrictions on multiple ownership of media within the same market. We have few enough voices in the media now. If these restrictions were relaxed, media conglomeration would accelerate, putting more media outlets into single company control. As citizens of a republic, we can only make informed decisions about candidates and issues if we are properly and impartially informed by our media outlets. If media oligopoly is allowed to increase, we will have even fewer information sources from which to choose.
